

TOPIC

Ethics and Business Practices– Section V – Question 4

QUESTION

If you suspect that a fellow employee, who is a licensed (registered) professional engineer, knowingly violated the code of ethics for engineers by signing plans outside of their area of competence for a client, what should you do?

- (A) Report the licensed (registered) professional engineer to the client.
- (B) Report the licensed (registered) professional engineer to their employer.
- (C) Discuss the situation with the licensed (registered) professional engineer.
- (D) Report the licensed (registered) professional engineer to the State Board of Professional Regulation.

HINTS

Action must be taken to ensure the integrity of the engineering profession.

CONTRIBUTOR

Glen Besterfield